

Crossroads

Maximillian

Powerless promises, I'm living lies
Consequence closing in, I am paralyzed

Now I'm at the crossroads, driving to the unknown
Staring through the window, silence in my headphones
I don't wanna run, but I don't wanna stay
Hiding from my problems but they're calling out my name

These street lights telling me to go home
Stop signs begging me to turn around
Bright light burning in my eyes
I'm blinded by the crossroads
I'm blinded by the crossroads
I'm blinded by the crossroads

Silhouettes, like chasing ghosts, I am paranoid
Every breath, heavy heart into divine

Now I'm at the crossroads, driving to the unknown
Staring through the window, silence in my headphones
I don't wanna run, but I don't wanna stay
Hiding from my problems but they're calling out my name

These street lights telling me to go home
Stop signs begging me to turn around
Bright light burning in my eyes
I'm blinded by the crossroads
Smokescreen covering my high beam
Can't breathe 'til I find a better way
To leave all this shit behind me
I'm blinded by the crossroads

(Ooh) Now I am reminiscing 'bout the darker days
And I can't even think about
All the crazy choices that I would have made
But I walked away

Now I am at the crossroad, driving to the unknown
Staring through the window, silence in my headphones
I don't wanna run, but I don't wanna stay
Hiding from my problems but they are calling out my name
These street lights telling me to go home
Stop sign begging me to turn around
Bright light burning in my eyes
I'm blinded by the crossroads
Smokescreen covering my high beam
Can't breathe 'til I find a better way
To leave all this shit behind me
I'm blinded by the crossroads
