

Strangers

Maximillian

I feel your fingertips burning, now I'm listening
I wonder why you keep calling since you're kissing him
You say you want me now, you think I need you now?
I'd rather have a broken heart than having you around
Hey, turn my shoulders, warm up the ice
My good intentions went bad, now I'll roll the dice
I think it's time I tell you, I hope you understand
You're better off wasting love on another man

Oh, we could be strangers
Save love for later
We could forget somehow
Don't need you now

Oh, we could be strangers
Save love for later
I'll let my heart know
If we could let love know
We could be strangers
Save love for later
I'll let my heart know
That you let our love go

'Cause in between the light you feel amazing
Still, you keep rushing, keep pushing when your heart is aching
I told you once before, you ain't the one for me
I ain't your Superman, you ain't my Lois Lane
If I give in to you, I know you'd bring me down
I think we're better off loving with our loving gone
But still, I hope you've noticed that I felt things for you
You say you want a man who treats you like I used to do

Oh, we could be strangers
Save love for later
We could forget somehow
Don't need you now

Oh, we could be strangers
Save love for later
I'll let my heart know
If we could let love know
We could be strangers
Save love for later
I'll let my heart know
That you let our love go
