

Begin Again

Maya Delilah

My first car only got me so far before we fell apart
Now we're back to the start again
My first kiss I was only a kid it meant everything
And now we're not even friends

Cos every start has a finish line
No there's no way out of it
Everyone runs out of time, oh my
Another day, another end, oh, we begin again

My first house there's something about it
And dad moved out, how could it be the same
But that's okay

Every time that I press rewind to a point in my life
I hope that nothing has changed, it's all in vain
Bless my soul, we're all getting old and the world moves fast
Even if you take it slow, take it slow
Another day, another end, oh, we begin again