

Restless Moon

Maya Hawke

I combine the weight of breathing with your active morning bird s

A weakness is believing in my imagination of yours
I see it, though, I do, in the turning of your mind
I see the things you think, your electric body beside

Your body beside
The tide is in, it will go out
I remember when you said that
I know you meant it now
I know you meant it now

Took interest in the roses on your button-down
I was fascinated by the colors on that cow
We did a lot of talking, unnaturally awake
You said it makes you feel sad to watch me make mistakes

My body beside
The tide is in, it will go out
I remember when you said that
I know you meant it now
The tide is in, it will go out
I remember when you said that
I know you meant it now
I know you meant it now

Drink up all the darkness
Choke on the moon in your mouth
Drink up all the darkness
Choke on the moon in your mouth
Drink up all the darkness
Choke on the moon in your mouth

Drink up all the darkness
I know you did it for show
I watched you swallow the moon
And now your belly glows
The reflection of the sunlight
On your regular stone

You're full of holes, I know
You're full of holes, I know
