

Promises

Mayday Parade

I woke up this morning and knew something wasn't right
I could tell by the way we didn't sleep well last night
The air is so cold and the sun began to rise
All I wanted was a moment, but the moment flew by

That's when you, you closed your eyes
That's when I, I had to say goodbye

Promises, promises, I'm done with all of it
In solitude where I walk alone
The heart of it's ominous, clear cut and prominent
I miss you more than I did before
In our struggle, will you find the best in me
In spite of everything?

Sooner or later enough is enough
Like a house full of flowers, we all wilt and dry up
The air is still cold and the sun will always rise
All I wanted was a moment, but the moment flew by

That's when you, you closed your eyes
That's when I, I had to say goodbye

Promises, promises, I'm done with all of it
In solitude where I walk alone
The heart of it's ominous, clear cut and prominent
I miss you more than I did before
In our struggle, will you find the best in me
In spite of everything?

Promises, promises, I'm done with all of it
In solitude where I walk alone
The heart of it's ominous, clear cut and prominent
I miss you more than I did before
In our struggle, will you find the best in me
In spite of everything?

Promises, promises, I'm done with all of it
I miss you more than I did before
But you'll never know
You'll never know
