

Towards You

Mayday Parade

Every moment wants to feel brand new
Every moment I'm alone with you
Carry on when it starts to feel this way
Up ahead there is something worth the wait
And you're miles away from it all but I don't care

I'm still singing because you make me feel less small
You are the wave beneath it all
You lift me when I fall down
As I go, carry hope it won't be long
We'll make an ocean of this song
And I'll sail where the wind blows now
Towards you, towards you

It's hard to see the bed you're lying in
Where the covers stop and you begin
All I know is wanna be there, too
A silhouette in the perfect shape of you
And we're miles away from it all but I don't care

I'm still singing because you make me feel less small
You are the wave beneath it all
You lift me when I fall down
As I go, carry hope it won't be long
We'll make an ocean of this song
And I'll sail where the wind blows now
Towards you, towards you

I'm still singing because you make me feel less small
You are the wave beneath it all
You lift me when I fall down
As I go, carry hope it won't be long
We'll make an ocean of this song
And I'll sail where the wind blows now
