

Confidence

¡Mayday!

Yeah yeah
Yeah yeah
(Yeah yeah, yeah, yeah)

It ain't your pedigree
It ain't the fancy way you speak
It's more than how you like to dress
It's more than just your kiss
It's more than obvious that what it is is hard to miss
And that's your confidence
It's just your confidence
It's more than just one thing
It's more than just your kiss
It's more than obvious that what it is is hard to miss
And that's your confidence

Yeah yeah, and I feel it from the back of my mind
Everything you do got a groove
Make me want to say, "Who could really be this fine?"
Who could really walk this line?
Keep me feeling in my prime
I just want to kick it for a minute
Won't you stay, let me feel it? All I need is time
Running just tryna find me a someone that doesn't want to elope
Everything you're doing is superhuman
I'm fine in the vibe that you in
I want to just come and love you below
But I know that newly pursuing
Even the bid of your movement
Could maybe possibly ruin you in the notes
So I'm trying to sing along with you
And put some paint on the picture
So we could put it together, truly I hope
See this whole thing got me mesmerized
Minute hand fly while the seconds dry
I know you could find you a metro guy
Who got next in line and like sexercise
But I'm the Lector kind, I like extra fries
I get wrecked to drive, I might stress at times
But ain't nobody perfect so let's just vibe
And pour two big shots with some Fleisch' and lime
I got friends that been telling me to keep on movin'
They've been telling me to keep on choosin'
I just think that they scared of your movement
And the fact you a full time student
But not me, I'm the opposite
I got goals of my own that I got to get
I want prominence so give me all of it
You see they probably split but I like confidence

It ain't your pedigree
It ain't the fancy way you speak
It's more than how you like to dress
It's more than just your kiss
It's more than obvious that what it is is hard to miss
And that's your confidence
It's just your confidence

It's more than just one thing
It's more than just your kiss
It's more than obvious that what it is is hard to miss
And that's your confidence

Ayy, it's hard to put in words
They all really never hit the nerve
They all fall short of the curb
When they ask what it is
I shoot them a grin
And I act like it's over my head
But deep down, yo, I know what it is
Even though there ain't words that fit
Something in the way you like to act
Got me getting set like a quarterback
And I ain't never gonna miss the fact
That when you're around it's a heart attack
I'm just sprung off your ways
I've been strung out for days
Your love like a drug in my veins
Something like a rush to my brain
They all think they can replicate the recipe
But nah, they can never seem to get to me
Can't catch a natural energy
They all fall short like they some mini-me's
And it comes off effortless
It's hard to explain what it is
All I know is it got me coming back
Time and time again, give me just a hit

It ain't your pedigree
It ain't the fancy way you speak
It's more than how you like to dress
It's more than just your kiss
It's more than obvious that what it is is hard to miss
And that's your confidence
It's just your confidence
It's more than just one thing
It's more than just your kiss
It's more than obvious that what it is is hard to miss
And that's your confidence

You understand that? This is exclusive
I don't eve know why I called your stupid ass
You know what, don't even fuckin' call me back
