

Feel It All Around

¡Mayday!

I thought that you'd be coming now to take my place
But you never showed
Now I'm about to go and live it on my own
You just let it go
We've been running 'round so long now I can't seem to know
If I'm even whole
They say that we all live to find a place to grow
But I'm never home

Everybody wanna find a million dollar baby
Call up Gordon Gekko, get a tip that might save me
I'm the first born, needy like my mama done raised me
Too obsessed with television, fairy tales are what made me
Think of anywhere, this soft spot, probably more lately
Maybe it's the liquor I've been chugging down more lately
Out the 80's all my neighbors clocking me from all angles
I think that it's the way I decorated my castle
Rassle mass of folk, private ghosts
Probably said it to myself alone the most
I feel like we afloat, I'm trying to find the coast
Paddling harder than them competition speed boats
You wanna elope, but I ain't even popped the question
Spending holidays in a comfortable depression
It's a hard knock life when the kids are giving lessons
To a room full of people that'll never hear the message
What's the message?

You feel it all around yourself
You know it's yours and no one else
You feel the thought of learning again
It's all around
You're tired of all the things you did
You'll work it out

Remember back then when we were like all copacetic
Smiles at each other through the stress, so kinectic
I thought we'd live forever, yeah I know, I'm so pathetic
But it's better to be dreaming big than never to have let it get the best of me
I told you I would not regret it
So let's check and double check it
This is not the normal method for the youth of America
Generate exes, that all have sex with, the parents are contested
Hey little Molly, I see you feeling so positive
But I know that you're negative on all that I gots ta give
I take a step back for better veiwership
You tell me all your plans, you're never doing shit
You know I love you right, 'til the death do us
That's affirmative, so put a check through this Hard knock life when the kids are giving lessons
To a room full of people that will never hear the message
What's the message?

You feel it all around yourself
You know it's yours and no one else
You feel the thought of learning again
It's all around

You're tired of all the things you did
You'll work it out
