

Golden Hour

iMayday!

Before the sun goes down
Before I let go
When it's the final hour
When everything's gold, oh
I'll be in that place where the night moves slow til the light don't find it
's glow
I can't press rewind ain't got much time
To satisfy my soul

In the golden hour
I'll meet you there
In the golden hour
I'll find you there, ay
In the golden hour

Lost cause too much to lose
But I'm still running back to you
Every time you around to amuse
I get lost in the mix of your hues
Looking like Sunset Boulevard every time you around
So meet me once more for now
See lately we been all finding out
That the end really imminent
All for a little bit

It's all lit I'm feeling it gone in a flash like
Better looking beyond with a flashlight
In the middle I pause to refract light
Then I'm dipping we gone in a half life
You lighting up my window shade
In a daze almost didn't hear the tempo change
You know my days bang til crescendos play and the rays don't fade away

In the golden hour
I'll meet you there
In the golden hour
I'll find you there, ay
In the golden hour

Held my feet to the fire
But never been burned
Looking up higher
Forgot what I learned
It's bright when I walk in
It's deep in my soul
Be here for it watching
Got lost in the glow

In the golden hour
I'll meet you there
In the golden hour
I'll find you there, ay
In the golden hour
I'll meet you there
In the golden hour
In the golden hour
