

Warning Signs

¡Mayday!

You had it all
But wanted more then I can give
I had a ball
Pretending this was permanent
Let's take our time
Before we both forget the way
We lost our minds
And both ignore the warning signs
The warning signs
The warning signs
We both were blind
To the warning signs
Aye aye aye yay yay

I've been riding up and down
The outer lining of your dress
I've been hiding in my island
Like the tribe that's on a quest
Open wide and step aside and
Bout to dive inside your chest
Give me room and give me time
And you know I'll decide the rest

I confess, I've been blessed
But I need to reassess
Bring it back and forth
And then go ahead and do it again

Hurt my head way back when Way before we started and
Now I need some time to myself
Just to make some sense of it

Don't know where this ends
Even less where it begins
Only thing I know for sure is that just don't give a shit
I've been working on myself
Even got a brand new fit
Just to show you in the hopes you forget...

Of the warning signs
The warning signs
We both were blind
To the warning signs
Aye aye aye yay yay yay

I've been riding up and down the avenue cause I'm a mess
Every dock reminded I'm triggered got me so depressed
Should've known for better it was obvious you wanted flesh
Cut a pound, bottled up my heart now its an empty chest

Dig up your portion
Limit distortion
I just been tryin' the scene
Its a contortion how you just forced in Every piece of my being
Valley of red flags

I'm tryin' to spread out my wings
Avoid all the checked bags
And walk off the flight like I'm truly a king
But I've been way down
Minus distorted immm
Under a haze now
I'm looking for more divine
Awake in the morning time
Unsure if I'm sort of fine
Now I'm crossing the border line
Should've picked up the warning signs

The warning signs
The warning signs
We both were blind
To the warning signs

But I just gotta be real... you know I
Wait
I think I found someone
Are you serious... I'm having trouble processing
Yeah...
Is she a human?
Yeah yeah, she's... she's real
I...iiii...iii can't believe this, where did you meet this person?
Um... at the gym actually...
But you never go to the gym
I know it sounds cliche
I can't fucking believe this!
