

Wherever You're Going

Maywood

Do you remember the first day we met?
Sun was shining

I do remember and I won't forget,
But it's raining all week and the phone didn't ring
And the postman I knew didn't deliver a thing

I stay at home, watch the people go by
Familiar faces

No one, no, no one gives it a try,
To be nice, to be friendly, they all walk around
With a heart full of trouble, no answers they found

Wherever you're going, I wanna be
That's what I told you frequently
But you have vanished, how can I manage on my own?

Wherever you're going, let me be there
Just to be near you, I wanna share
Now you have left me, why did you go?

Don't have no sugar, run out of tea,
Time for shopping

I would rather sleep than to die wakefully
Thinking how it was like when you were by my side
Now I feel like an animal, trying to hide

Wherever you're going, I wanna be
That's what I told you frequently
But you have vanished, how can I manage on my own?

Wherever you're going, let me be there
Just to be near you, I wanna share
Now you have left me, why did you go?

Wherever you're going, I wanna be
That's what I told you frequently
But you have vanished, how can I manage on my own?

Wherever you're going, let me be there
Just to be near you, I wanna share
Now you have left me, why did you go?

Wherever you're going, I wanna be
That's what I told you frequently
But you have vanished, how can I manage on my own?...
