

Where Ya Been Lars II

MC Lars

Where ya been Lars, where ya been? [x8]

I've been touring every where just to bring those joyful smiles
On a four-year long mission, guess this album took awhile been to Auckland, been to Glasgow, been to Anchorage and back now I rock a North Face jacket and a brand new A's cap I've been at it for a decade, can't believe I'm 32,
Or how much of what I said on "Download this Song" came true
I answered every single question on my Reddit AMA and for 17 whole minutes it was up on the front page I dropped an introspective album not a lot of people liked but I felt a little better when my Dad said it was tight (right
?)

I played Carnegie Hall and produced a hundred tracks
I lost 35 pounds (yeah!), I gained 25 back (oh?)
I gave a lot of hugs and I shook a lot of hands you will never meet an MC who's more grateful for his fans (tha nk you guys!)
I've been working on this TV show, it's really going great coming to the screen near you in 2038

The show's called Yes, Yes Y'all!, and basically it's the story of me and three robots, one spider, who travel through time to learn about history through a hip-hop cultural lens. There's P ickles, the vituperative DJ with giant eyes that are turntables
. There's Michelle, the anthropomorphic microphone, and there's Art the gigantic spray paint can... and then there's Crazy Legs, who's this spider with eight ADIDASes, who's dancing and stuff like that. Imagine if Jam Master Jay had eight legs, how much vinyl he could mix? But anyway, you've got to wait for it becau se in the meantime, here's my fourth album.
