McCafferty

Standing in the corner of this party that we're at
Our designated drivers drunk so you were really mad
You were textin everyone to see if they could pick us up
Every time I pick a pencil up I go and fuck this up

She said

Aye aye oh oh
I don't even drink tho
Such a little princess, sneakin out her window
I am such a diva, guess ill just deceive ya
Say you wanna leave, huh?
I guess I'll fuckin see ya

Aye Aye oh oh
He just wants a drink tho
Such a little princess, underneath her red bow
I am such a diva, guess ill just deceive ya
Say you wanna leave, huh?
I guess I'll fuckin see ya

Think I give a shit?
Well I don't
Everybody here is a joke
Turn all of my old friends to ghosts
Calmest before I am most
Toxic to those who are close
Please give up on the hope
That you'll get through to me tho
Turn off this shit if I'm gross

This is just the way that it goes
Hand on the wheel and we're close
I can take us through the smoke
I can lock up when were closed
Kiss on the forehead is fine
Lost in the forest of life
You don't decide when its time
Time to take back what is mine

Aye Aye oh oh
You don't even drink tho
Such a little princess, sneakin out her window
I am such a diva, guess I'll just deceive ya
Say you wanna leave, huh?
I guess I'll fuckin see ya

Aye Aye oh oh
He just wants a drink tho
Such a little princess, underneath her red bow
I am such a diva, guess I'll just deceive ya
Say you wanna leave, huh?
I guess I'll fuckin see ya

Its snowing out
Grab your sled
And we'll go to Reagan Park

There is ice on the stairs
Josh will skate them in the dark

I can feel both your eyes
Starin daggers at my back
I'm obnoxious and crude
But at least my friends all laughed

At least I thought they did
Guess they wanted things from me
If we cant have he has
Then he cant have anything

That's alright live and learn
I built this all from the dirt
Being under pressures fine
Ten thousand leagues under my shirt
Is my heart and my soul
There's a dragon from the egg

Climbin up the castle walls
Eating angels in his way
Then the king and the queen kill themselves before they've seen
How the battle will end
Things are never as they seem

And the stars fallin fast
Down a road and that twists and turns
She was thrown from the car
You never thought that she'd get hurt
And at schools stare at desks
And we all are so ashamed

She was top of her class and they'll never know her

Light blue eyes
Like the summer skies
And small town dreams become small town lies

And country boys, stay country side
Drinkin shitty beer for a shitty life

Light blue eyes
When your grandma died
You said, "Nick I'm scared"
I said it'll be alright

And country boys stay countryside
Drinkin shitty beer for a shitty life

She said

Aye Aye oh oh
I don't even drink tho
Such a little princess, sneakin out her window
I am such a diva, guess I'll just deceive ya
Say you wanna leave, huh?
I guess I'll fuckin see ya

Aye Aye oh oh
He just wants a drink tho
Such a little princess, underneath her red bow
I am such a diva, guess I'll just deceive ya

Say you wanna leave, huh?
I guess I'll fuckin see ya

Once upon a time there was a little boy who grew up in the darkness

The darkness was his friend and he asked it to be his goddess

And this goddess was beautiful, faceless and shapeless in the dark

And the boy fell in love with the darkness
And he asked it to be his goddess

And his goddess was cruel, and unforgiving, just like his mother was

But the boy still obeyed the goddess, in the wake of her fury and destruction as he drained the blood from his body into hers

And the boy still loved the darkness
Because he loved the way that it hugged him
And the boy had never felt a hug, so he welcomed the embrace

And as the boy grew so did his goddess until he was old enough to protect himself

But the goddess was selfish
And she wanted the boy all for herself

So she laid a trap in the forest for the boy
In the forest that she had helped him cut down
And the darkness waited
And waited
And waited
But the boy knew there was a trap waiting for him
Because the boy had been raised by the darkness
So he knew

And the darkness waited
And waited
And waited
But the boy knew there was a trap waiting for him
Because the boy had been raised by the darkness
So he knew
