

Your shoelaces were still untied
Your cap and gown was in your eyes
I think I saw you in the aisle
Gonna turn my head a while
There's a ghost inside my head
He has no teeth and has no friends
He looks like me except he's not as sad

Do you remember calculating
How much it would be for us to live together?
We're still together

And when the darkness comes, it comes in strides
It comes at night
And, boy, does it light
And, boy, does it light
Boy, does it light
Boy, does it light

Please give me walks, please give me talks
Please give me things that I don't even need
God, give me hope, God, help me pray
God, give me everything so you take it away

Your shoelaces were still untied
Your cap and gown were in your eyes
I think I saw you in the aisle
Gonna turn my head a while
There's a ghost inside my head
He has no teeth and has no friends
He looks like me except he's not as sad

Boy, does it light
Boy, does it light
