

Brainwashed

Meadowlark

Another day, another way to fall apart
The endless stream and the decay
Need to make a start
I need to escape this prison I'm in

With every step and every stride
A remembering
But as it goes this way with life
A forgetting
I need to escape this prison I'm in

'Cause I've been brainwashed
Into thinking that I need you
Here goes another loss
To take away another light
I'm conditioned to believe that it's outside of me
So each time you go
An awakening

Am I really gonna fight to stay alive
For a maybe, for a might
That I won't survive
I need to escape this prison I'm in

'Cause I've been brainwashed
Into thinking that I love you
Here goes another loss
To stoke that final flame
I'm conditioned to believe that it's outside of me
So each time you go
An awakening
So each time you go
An awakening
