

Lightning

Meadowlark

I know you never meant to hurt
But you did, oh you did
So beneath me
I know your intentions were good
Maybe not, but I try to only see

You
For what you were back then
And me
For what I wanted way back when
Oh, way back when

I think about if we could talk
What I'd say, what I'd do, please believe me
Your words, they're still at work
In my head, in my soul, they won't leave me

And you
May have forgotten my name
And me
I won't ever be the same

Why
You're gone now
Gone now
Won't ever be the same
I am fine now
Fine now
The power of your name
You're lightning in my brain
You're lightning in my brain
The power of your name
You're lightning in my brain
You're lightning in my brain

I feel the courage in my gut
Can't be violently silent anymore
'Cause I owe it to the world
To the women, to the girls that I break for

And you
You owe it to them too
And me
Oh, I promise I'm comin' through
I promise I'm comin' through

Why
You're gone now
Gone now
Won't ever be the same
I am fine now
Fine now
The power of your name
The power of your name

You're lightning in my brain
