

Eyes of a Stranger

Mean Streak

A page from a time of the past, so ancient so old
A tale that's been told here at last, so black and so cold

Where do you go, where do you go, when there is no place to hide away

Where do you go, where do you go, when you are standing alone and you stare

Into the eyes of a stranger
Innocence is no excuse better watch out when you stare
Into the eyes of a stranger
Evil has its eyes on you, evil forces never let you go

As light fades the darkness will rule, eternal shame
You're cursed cause you've listened to fools, yourself to blame

Where do you go, where do you go, when there is no place to hide away

Where do you go, where do you go, when you are standing alone and you stare

Into the eyes of a stranger
Innocence is no excuse better watch out when you stare
Into the eyes of a stranger
Evil has its eyes on you, evil forces never let you go
