

Fire at Will

Mean Streak

A fire fall, the iron ball
We gonna break down every wall
The deafening sound, is all around
We're gonna bring you to the ground

We're back from the black, like Phoenix
We'll rising once more
Prepare for attack, returning to settle
The score

With open fire, let the rain of steel begin
With open fire, now fire at will

A second wave, a new brigade
From metal we are made
A blinding light, we're burning bright
A rising flame throughout the night
