

Throw Open The Gates

Means

Everyone wait a moment
as we are growing older Looking further down this road
we see the signs

We see the signs
We feel the undercurrents
The symbols of a world gone wrong
Thy symbols of this world
How could you or I reconcile this?
Underneath the rubble of a thousand kingdoms
Underneath the world
you are throwing open the gates
We are not just white (washed) walls or unmarked graves
We see the signs

I feel the undercurrent
We see the signs

Behold the thorns,
the open gates
Like grains of sand
they are your thoughts
You and I will not falter
Though it's taking everything we won't be silent

Throw open the gates (4x)

Looking further down this road
Underneath the rubble of a thousand kingdoms
Underneath the world
you are throwing open the gates
We are not just white (washed) walls or unmarked graves
We see the signs
We feel the undercurrents

Now I'm at a distance beneath the mountain
I see the energy pass through the water
And the cracks in the sky are breaking on us
The poor are circled by the lions

The blind will see
The deaf will hear
So let this be our revenge

Throw open the gates (3x)
