

Tribute to Life

Meden Agan

I'm waiting for the full moon
To fall upon my eyes
This cold wind has frozen my tears
And the hope passes like the rain

I break the door for the other side
There are many paths to walk alone
Between the shadows and fear
Until the end of the world

My demons come drowning me
My anger controls me
With the doubt and dark
Walking to the edge of time

I hear you screaming in the night
Your whispers beyond the sky
The kingdom of heaven waiting for you
The angels are calling
Through clouds and mist

Why god? Why give me your anger?
My soul
Flying somewhere in enormous sky
Where are we going?
When do we die?

The echoes of my mind
Follow me down
Sorrow and the fog surround me
On the wheels of eternity
Deeper I'm falling
On the haze of dreams
I'm falling deeper on
The smile of sadness
