Good Enough

Medina

Let's pretend for just one minute more
That I'm yours and I'm you're mine again
But I get to walk away from
All the mess you left, your emptiness
I want to forget about the pain in me.

Oh, I know you wish me well
But I'm better by myself
Spinning on your carousel
I'm coming to tell

If nothing is good enough
I know gotta leave you
In the back of my mind
I don't need your thunder
So I'm saying goodbye.

If nothing is good enough
You're gonna lose it all
And everything will collide
None of this is end
And I will no longer try

So this is it, baby once upon a time
You and I, we were beautiful
I can never count the ways to explain about by true
I know you felt it too
I'm in a thousand pieces
I ain't loving you.

Oh, I know you wish me well
But I'm better by myself
Spinning on your carousel
I'm coming to tell

If nothing is good enough
I know gotta leave you
In the back of my mind
I don't need your thunder
So I'm saying goodbye.

If nothing is good enough
You're gonna lose it all
And everything will collide
None of this is end
And I will no longer try

Let it sail away, way, way
Watch it fading out, out
Let me go, 'cause I can't stay
Let it kill me now.

Let me find you solid ground
Let me find out how
I'm laying here insufferable
And better off somehow.

If nothing is good enough
I know gotta leave you
In the back of my mind
I don't need your thunder
So I'm saying goodbye.

If nothing is good enough
You're gonna lose it all
And everything will collide
None of this is end
And I will no longer try
If nothing is good enough
I know gotta leave you
In the back of my mind
I don't need your thunder
So I'm saying goodbye.
If nothing is good enough
You're gonna lose it all
And everything will collide
None of this is end
And I will no longer try.
Ooh baby, so this is it.
