If this is it
I think I'll change professions
If I don't quit
Then I ain't learned my lesson yet

And if you come back a-slidin' in my arms
I guess that I should just cut 'em off
And wrap 'em up for you to have

I'm runnin' out
But I think the money's worth it
I trade it in
For shelter and insurance

'Cause the only thing I know I know for sure
Is that I don't know how it's gonna go
And that'll break you if you let it

In my chest, atom bombs
One big from shake from going off
Take a breath, keep it calm
No one likes the atom bombs

More than once
The stillness turns to sadness
Call a friend
Try and conjure up the magic
'Cause its been 100 Tuesday's since we talked
And double that since I felt soft enough to beg someone to hold me

Play it off
With reinforced attachment
I got jokes
But none of y'all are laughin'
'Cause God fucked up and got his phone turned off
And there's so much work to be done
And no ones lining up to do it

In my chest, atom bombs
One big from shake from going off
Take a breath, keep it calm
No one likes the atom bombs

In my chest, atom bombs
One big from shake from going off
Take a breath, keep it calm
No one likes the atom bombs

(No one likes the atom bombs)

Yeah, yeah, yeah

In my chest, atom bombs
One big from shake from going off
Take a breath, keep it calm
No one likes the atom bombs

In my chest, atom bombs
One big from shake from going off
Take a breath, keep it calm
No one likes the atom bombs
