

Beach Chair

Medium Build

I love how you have no idea what you want
Or maybe it's more that you just want everything
I've never met a person who could flake so hard
Turn around and give their time to anything
I love the way you fold your body into bed
And the little grunt you make when you roll out
I think it's crazy ain't no label signed you yet
But I bet you'd have complaints to make if they did somehow

'Cause you ain't shit
But I love you
You need work
But I reckon it can be done
And I promise I won't put no one above you
Death do us part
Beach chairs in the sun

I love how you can make the most of anything
Or maybe you're just good at being used
I've never met a person more convinced that they're the best
So frequently forget that it's the truth
It's funny seeing how these strangers gaze at you
Seeing what I get to see all day
I guess it makes me lucky when you give yourself to me
And jealous when you hide yourself away

'Cause you ain't shit
But I love you
You need work
But I reckon it can be done
And I promise I won't put no one above you
Death do us part
Beach chairs in the sun

'Cause you ain't shit
But I love you
Yeah, you need work
But I reckon it can be done
And I promise I won't put no one above you
Death do us part
Beach chair in the sun
Death do us part
Beach chairs in the sun
Death do us part
Beach chair in the sun
