

Said it's been a long day
You say, yeah, a long week
I say, long couple years
Now you're laughing at me
I love the silence in your sigh
The things you say with your eyes
The things you don't say at all
When your back's up against the wall

I said it's not too late
You say, yeah, it's too late
I said it's never too late to

Come on, come on back
I got plenty of everything here you can have
I know what they did and I know that shit was wack (Haha) (Come on back)
But it's never too late to come on, come on back

Come on back
You know you're enough
You know you're enough
Just come on back

Picked you up from the airport
We're scootin' down the street
Roll into the Buckaroo
Order a drink and a shot for me
I say, do you want something?
You said, I ain't been sober in so goddamn long
But yeah, go ahead and give me something
You said, cheers
I said, welcome home
And you told me you love me
I said it ain't too late
It's never too late to come on

Come on, come on back
What kind of friend would I be if I didn't take you back?
I fuck shit up too, I'm reminded of that
I'm so high and now I'm just laughing at that

Come on, come on back
I ain't never gonna look at you like that
