

Never Learned To Dance

Medium Build

Kids dressed up like Mormons, not sure if it's irony
Double Casamigos hiding in the balcony
Send me your location, I'll send you a selfie
Babe, this dream I had, it feels like it might ruin me

Everyone's acting like it's so cool
Everyone's saying this is so you, ooh

There has to be a better shit to give a shit about
Instead of wondering what people think about me now
The things that I don't know could fill a million fucking house
s
I never learned to dance

Buying weed on Wilshire, sexting with my therapist
Making beats with randos, starting to get arrogant
They're like, "Boy, you got connections now You're really fucking doing it" Oh, come on!

Everyone's acting like it's so cool
Everyone's saying this is so you, ooh

Instead of wondering what people think about me now
The things that I don't know could fill a million fucking house
s
I never learned to dance, I never learned to dance
I never learned to dance, yeah
