

Red & blue
Me & you
Oil & water
A little sugar too
A conversation with your boss
Close the door, we need to talk

A pounding heartbeat
6 feet in the ground
A brand new pool at Grandma's house
And oh my God, joy & panic
Time & space mapped out on a canvas

It's red & blue
Me & you

Red & blue
Blue & black
A hook that never brings you back
A pair of shoes that fit just right
But now they're blistering, way too tight
Being so high that you want to come down
And loving so hard that it wears you out
A joke that don't have one bit of truth
I don't know nothing but I know I love you

And we're red & blue
Me & you

A pair of wings hidden in your closet
That lost all their value the day that you bought them
I'm hearing your voice in all of my dreams
Soft and small but smothering
Writing a message
Saving it to drafts
I'm sure she read the first one
She'll reply soon - I laugh
A read receipt 3 weeks out
A flask beside my coffee now

It's red & blue
Me & you
