

Somebody Else

Medium Build

Well I used to get chills when you sang
Now I don't feel too much of anything
Sure is a nice little melody
But the lyrics don't speak to me

I wonder if there was a moment in time
When you started thinking too much
You used to be so earnest
You never used to give a fuck

Now you sound
Like you're missing someone
And you sound
Like you're doing too well
You sound like shitty on purpose
You sound like somebody else

Boy, I used to just cum when you sing
Now I don't feel too much of anything
Sure is a nice couple words you speak
But you don't mean a lick

I've heard all the songs in the world
And I know about lots of the boys and girls
And if you really want to fuck with the kids
You gotta be - you gotta mean it

Now you sound
Like you're missing someone
And you sound
Like you're doing too well
You sound like shitty on purpose
You sound like somebody else
