Meet Me @ The Altar

What a waste, this place I can't stand
I know it like the back of my hand
I'm digging underneath the world I've seen consumed in doubt
Hold me back, I'm out of control
Cause the weight has taken its toll
I'm tired of the lies and I don't really wanna talk it out

Burn it all down, burn it all down
Won't silence my voice
Burn it all down, burn it all down

Stop this regression
And all of my problems
Oh, I can't solve them
View with discretion
Burn it all down, burn it all down
Bound by the tension
Constrained in my head
Lightly I tread
Here comes redemption
Burn it all down, burn it all down

Stuck inside, am I secluded?
Fantasize in my delusion
Is this not what it seems?
Reality is heading south
Paid the price, I'm out on my own
Hate to dive into the unknown
But I can't sit around and I'm not gonna try to talk it out

Burn it all down, burn it all down
Won't silence my voice
Burn it all down, burn it all down

Stop this regression
And all of my problems
Oh, I can't solve them
View with discretion
Burn it all down, burn it all down
Bound by the tension
Constrained in my head
Lightly I tread
Here comes redemption
Burn it all down, burn it all down
Stop this regression
And all of my problems
Oh, I can't solve them
View with discretion
Burn it all down, burn it all down
Bound by the tension

Forget this world that's full of hate
Forget the habits that I can't break
I'm holding onto to the last thread of hope I stitched in my brain
I gotta go roam
Find me a new home
Face all of my fears
Learn how to let go
Just so I can be content
Before I burn it
