

Switchblade

Meet Me @ The Altar

I always said you're the one for me
I never really knew that I could be so naive
All the times you would say some shit
I'd ignore like it was never said through your black hole you think's so brilliant
I can't believe
I never woke from this bad dream

Don't cut me with the switchblade you pressed to my throat
Be delicate
You already killed me with the words you wrote
I'm so damaged

You're all that I wanted
But I think it's safe to say you meant more to me than I did to you
You've caused me so much pain
But I love you just the same
Please break the spell you've cast on me

You hurt and caused my heart to bleed
I didn't care cause I wanted to be your pretty little lady
How was I too blind to see
You drained the life right out of me
Right out of me
Regret, remorse
Step up, revolt

Don't cut me with the switchblade you pressed to my throat
Be delicate
You already killed me with the words you wrote
I'm so damaged

You're all that I wanted
But I think it's safe to say you meant more to me than I did to you
You've caused me so much pain
But I love you just the same
Please break the spell you've cast on me

You pressured me to be selfish
You pressured me to be spineless

I saved, my life
You saved
You saved, your pride
I saved
I saved, my life
You saved
You saved, your pride
I saved

You're all that I wanted
But I think it's safe to say you meant more to me than I did to you
You've caused me so much pain
But I love you just the same
Please break the spell you've cast on me
You're all that I wanted
But I think it's safe to say you meant more to me than I did to you

You've caused me so much pain
But I love you just the same
Please break the spell you've cast on me

One day I won't think about you anymore
One day I won't think about you anymore
