

Distraction

Meg & Dia

When you're calling let it go let it go
You're just a dead end stop on the road
When I want you, turn around turn around
There's only one way that this can go
And when I'm only thinking 'bout my long cold weekend alone
I'm missing every moment
I'll be fine, yeah it's alright
I'll take my shit and own it

Gotta get a little taste of some self love
You're just a simple distraction
Gotta get a little taste of some self love
You're just a simple distraction

I'll admit I think of you think of you
And it pulls me down when I do
Time to leave it all behind, I'll be fine
Yeah, it kills you telling the truth
When I'm feeling lonely, pick up when you call me, I know
I'll hate me in the morning
I'll keep on moving, I think that I'm getting close
I like where this is going

Gotta get a little taste of some self love
You're just a simple distraction
Gotta get a little taste of some self love
You're just a simple distraction

Distraction

I've been seeing clear for days
How the times, they change
I've been seeing clear for days
How the times, they change

Gotta get a little taste of some self love
You're just a simple distraction
Gotta get a little taste of some self love
You're just a simple distraction
