

Just a Name

Megan & Liz

I heard your name today and didn't even feel a thing
It used to bring the rain and knock the wind right out of me
But I don't miss you no more and I know we share a past
You're just the boy before
You're just the boy before

Last year, I'd hear that you were coming
And it would send me off running

You're just one heartbreak removed, I did what I had to do
I went and loved someone new and I got over you
I almost forgot the rules and how we'd play your game
I almost don't remember you
You're just a name

Back then, it ended and I never thought I'd feel this way
If someone brought you up, it would've ruined my day
But I just needed a change and now I'm doing okay
I wouldn't want you if I met you, if I met you to...

Days go by, turn into nights
And you don't even come to my mind

You're just one heartbreak removed, I did what I had to do
I went and loved someone new and I got over you
I almost forgot the rules and how we'd play your game
I almost don't remember you
You're just a name

You're just a name

Just a couple letters that don't mean a thing together
You're just a memory
Just a couple letters that don't mean a thing together
You don't mean nothing to me

You're just one heartbreak removed, I did what I had to do
I went and loved someone new and I got over you
I almost forgot the rules and how we'd play your game
I almost don't remember you
You're just a name

You're just a name

Just a couple letters that don't mean a thing together
You're just a name
Just a couple letters that don't mean a thing together
You're just a name
You're just a name