

Lovin' You

Megan & Liz

Black stains on pillowcases
The pain was heavy so I went and laid it down
Always fighting over something
Stuck in the ring, we were always going one more round
It's time to call it now

Sometimes loving each other ain't enough
Most times loving each other isn't love
You can call me cynical, 'cause I'm just another girl
Who gave everything she had to lovin' you
I don't know what to do, I'm used to lovin' you
I don't know what to do, I'm used to lovin' you (to loving you)
I don't know what to do, I'm used to lovin' you
I don't know what to do, I'm used to lovin' you

I got your hat at the top of my closet
Take it down, wear it around, it was like you were here somehow
I'm letting go of the love you gave me
Said goodbye to the words that knocked me out
Finally call it now

Sometimes wanting each other ain't enough
Most times loving each other isn't love
You can call me cynical, 'cause I'm just another girl
Who gave everything she had to lovin' you
I don't know what to do, I'm used to lovin' you
I don't know what to do, I'm used to lovin' you (to loving you)
I don't know what to do, I'm used to lovin' you
I don't know what to do, I'm used to lovin' you

It was inevitable, the undeniable fall (fall)
Through the rubble I crawl, at the end of it all
I was made to stand tall

Sometimes wanting each other ain't enough (it ain't enough, no)
Most times loving each other isn't love
You can call me cynical, 'cause I'm just another girl
Who gave everything she had to lovin' you
I don't know what to do, I'm used to lovin' you
I don't know what to do, I'm used to lovin' you (to loving you)
I don't know what to do, I'm used to lovin' you
I don't know what to do, I'm used to lovin' you
