

Confetti

Megan McKenna

Everyone I know is getting married
And everybody's story is so perfect
I'm feeling happy sad
'Coz I'd like a piece of that

I know I'll be the one to start the party
Dancing on the tables in a heartbeat
Watching the bride and groom
How did we grow up so soon

I'm watching how everyone's changing
And wishing my heart wasn't aching
I'm so happy that you finally found your someone
And maybe one day I'll wake up with somebody I've always wanted
Not just confetti in my pocket
Confetti in my pocket

All my friends are busy planning babies
But I'm still busy dating all the crazy's
I'd love to settle down
I'd love to be you right now

'Coz the way he looks at you like your his universe
And everything your getting is what you deserve
That's why it's bitter sweet
For someone like me

I'm watching how everyone's changing
And wishing my heart wasn't aching
I'm so happy that you finally found your someone
And maybe one day I'll wake up with somebody I've always wanted
Not just confetti in my pocket
Confetti in my pocket
A hand full of glitter
Just to remind me

I'm watching how everyone's changing
And wishing my heart wasn't aching
I'm so happy that you finally found your someone
And maybe one day I'll wake up with somebody I've always wanted
Not just confetti in my pocket
Confetti in my pocket
