

Vulnerable

Megan McKenna

Love has never been a friend of mine
Why're the good ones always hard to find?
Maybe it's just bad timing
We're still looking for that silver lining
When you met me on the corner of Dean Street
Something felt different instantly
I was too alone when you said hello
This conversation, I won't forget it
You got me feeling on the edge
Scared to jump but I need to try
Forgotten how it feels to fly

This feeling of falling
Got me wanting to go all in
This time it's for real
'Cause you make me make me feel
Vulnerable
Vulnerable
Yeah this time it's for real
'Cause you make me make me feel

You filled all the empty spaces
Took all the hurt and erased it
You made this house a home
And now you're something I can't live without

This feeling of falling
Got me wanting to go all in
This time it's for real
'Cause you make me make me feel
Vulnerable
Vulnerable
Yeah this time it's for real
'Cause you make me make me feel

I was always chasing storms
But now I got a different view
I don't need to know what's at the end of the rainbow
'Cause I've got you

This feeling of falling
Got me wanting to go all in
This time it's for real
'Cause you make me make me feel
Vulnerable
Vulnerable
Yeah this time it's for real
'Cause you make me make me feel
