

Other People

Meghan Patrick

That Polaroid of us on the fridge
Two months in
Used to be my favorite
It was a good day, a good place
Those West Coast waves were the only thing breaking

But now it's covered up with a menu and a magnet
'Cause every time I look at it

I see a guy who's always picking a fight
'Cause he's got a temper like his daddy
You see a girl who you give the world to
And you still can't make her happy
The people we are right here, right now
Ain't who we thought we'd be
When I'm looking at you
Sittin' right there, lookin' at me
We should see other people

I wonder if the checkout lady can tell
We've gone to hell in a handbasket
I bet when we're drinking, the bartender's thinking
"They're saving face, yeah there's no way that's lasting"

And I hate it
But seeing is believing
And I know everyone's seeing

I see a guy who's always picking a fight
'Cause he's got a temper like his daddy
You see a girl who you give the world to
And you still can't make her happy
The people we are right here, right now
Ain't who we thought we'd be
When I'm looking at you
Sittin' right there, lookin' at me
We should see other people

I wish that we could get it back
But we won't
Wish we saw the best in each other, baby
But we don't

I see a guy who's always picking a fight
'Cause he's got a temper like his daddy
You see a girl who you give the world to
And you still can't make her happy
The people we are right here, right now
Ain't who we thought we'd be
When I'm looking at you
Sittin' right there, lookin' at me
We should see other people
(Yeah)
We should see other people
(Ohh)
