

Really Shouldn't Drink Around You

Meghan Patrick

You say that we can be friends
But hey, let's be honest
There ain't really no such thing
As gin and platonic
Hey, one is gonna turn into two
Is gonna turn into you and me
At a quarter to three
With four shoes under the bed
Yeah, we know where it's headed to

I really shouldn't drink around you
It's a risk, it's a gamble
A little more than I can handle
Just a touch of a buzz
Is enough to get me thinking things
I really shouldn't think about you
We end up on a fast track
Getting back to where we left the past at
Ya think I would've learned my lesson by now
But I never do
I really shouldn't drink around you

Yeah, I know what's gonna happen if we order another shot
There ain't anyway to muster up the strength that I haven't got Well, wine is gonna turn into why not
And turning the lights off
Blurring the lines
And in no time, we're doing things that friends don't do

I really shouldn't drink around you
It's a risk, it's a gamble
A little more than I can handle
Just a touch of a buzz
Is enough to get me thinking things
I really shouldn't think about you
We end up on a fast track
Getting back to where we left the past at
Ya think I would've learned my lesson by now
But I never do
I really shouldn't drink around you, oh yeah
I really shouldn't drink around you

You say that we can be friends
But hey, let's be honest
There ain't really no such thing
As gin and platonic

I really shouldn't drink around you
It's a risk, it's a gamble
A little more than I can handle
Just a touch of a buzz
Is enough to get me thinking things
I really shouldn't think about you
We end up on a fast track
Getting back to where we left the past at
Ya think I would've learned my lesson by now
But I never do

I really shouldn't drink around you
I really shouldn't drink around you
I really shouldn't drink around you
I shouldn't drink around you...
