

The Sweet Spot (Mitchell's Song)

Meghan Patrick

Where'd you go, oh I've been missing you now for a little while
Goes to show we can only take so long without a smile
I've been at you, you've been at me
We've been strangers to happy
But I think we both know
We're way past ever letting go

Honey, my sugar
It's so good to see you again
It was just a matter of when
We find beauty in our bitter
Knowing we'll only bend, not break
Our love's always gonna take us back to
The sweet spot, sweet spot

Gets to the point where I want you more than I wanna be right
Even when I'm right
You don't need to try that hard
Yeah, all I need is to see you try
Yeah, then kiss like it's the first time
And that's the good part about a bad fight
'Cause by now we both know
We're way past ever letting go

Honey, my sugar
It's so good to see you again
It was just a matter of when
We find beauty in our bitter
Knowing we'll only bend, not break
Our love's always gonna take us back to
The sweet spot, sweet spot

Pour the whiskey, pour the wine
I don't care if it takes all night
I wanna meet you where we always find that

Honey, my sugar
It's so good to see you again
It was just a matter of when
We find beauty in our bitter
Knowing we'll only bend, not break
Our love's always gonna take us back to
The sweet spot, sweet spot

Ooh
Yeah the sweet spot, sweet spot
Ooh
Yeah the sweet spot, yeah the sweet spot
