

Whether You Love Me Or Not

Meghan Patrick

I quit looking in the mirror and seeing what you see
'Cause there ain't nothing wrong with that girl staring back at me
She's funny as hell, smart as a whip
And she doesn't take anyone's shit
I see myself so different now
But I haven't changed a bit

'Cause the sun still shines even though you left
And my heart's still beating there in my chest
Yeah, it hurt a lot but I still laugh
When I talk to God, He still talks back
I'm worth more than you ever thought
And I know now I'm better off
So I'm gonna love me
Whether you love me or not

I've learned to love the pieces that you
Wanted me to hide
I never been good enough
Yeah, it don't cross my mind
I don't feel ashamed, I know I ain't broken
I won't let you take, what I know is golden
And I sleep easy knowing when I open up my eyes

That the sun still shines even though you left
And my heart's still beating there in my chest
Yeah, it hurt a lot but I still laugh
When I talk to God, He still talks back
I'm worth more than you ever thought
And I know now I'm better off
So I'm gonna love me
Whether you love me or not
Oh, whether you love me or not, oh, mmm-hmm

Now I know I'm not unlovable, unlovable
And my heart is indestructible, indestructible
I quit looking in the mirror and seeing what you see

And the sun still shines even though you left
And my heart's still beating there in my chest
Yeah, it hurt a lot but I still laugh
When I talk to God, He still talks back
I'm worth more than you ever thought
And I know now I'm better off
So I'm gonna love me
Whether you love me or not
