

She Knows

Meiko

She wakes up
Fills her coffee cup
She looks outside
To see the sunrise

And she knows where to go
She knows what to follow
And every breath that she takes
Is gonna get her there tomorrow

She's on her way
She knows what to say
She'll get it right
She's taking her time
Everything is fine
She will be alright
She's alright

One more road
And another light
15 hundred miles
She'll be there tonight

She knew she wasn't happy
Right before she said she needed space
Only the worst would happen
If she never tried to make a change

She's on her way
She knows what to say
She'll get it right
She's taking her time
Everything is fine
She will be alright
She's alright

The day is gone
The weight is off her shoulders
No one holds her down anymore
All that's left
Is right ahead, it's Better off this way

And she knows where to go
She knows what to follow
And every breath that she takes
Is gonna get her there tomorrow
