

Space and Time

Meja

He could easily love her to pieces
But she's already broken
Even try to be perfect to please her
But she's not in the mood for a friend
Days and days become the years
They slowly fade

And she wants to be alone
Wants to figure out her life
Yeah she wants to be alone
in her own space and time

Behind his eyes there hides an ocean
Those tears will never wake
And as her mystery releases
The sadness of his weary state
Days and days become the years
They slowly fade

And she wants to be alone
Wants to figure out her life
Yeah she wants to be alone
in her own space and time

And so the morning sun arises the memory of a man remains
The taste of love was just a token
Among the shadow of her faith

And she wants to be alone
Wants to figure out her life
Yeah she wants to be alone
in her own space and time

Days and days became the years to slowly fade
And now she really is alone
She has to figure out her life
Yeah she really is alone
With her own space and time
