

Try It Again

Mel Tillis

You wake up Monday morning feeling so down
By the time the week goes by you're still not turned around
And what do you get for all the time you put in?
You get another chance to wake up and try it again

And you've been to Bandera, Texas and all over the world
You've seen the smoothest dancers and the prettiest girl
And what do you get in every state you lay your head
I bet you get another change to try it again

Sometimes when things look bad and rain's falling down
You wind up thinking of how it makes a beautiful sound
Then you know that up there somewhere you must have a friend
Who gave you another chance to try it again

Try it again...