

Needle And Thread

Melanie Martinez

Think it's time I cut the line
And lift the blinds, and pull myself together
Took too long to move along
It feels so wrong to abandon all the effort

Bringing out the blade and trimming all the strands
Tying all the loose ends, pulling rubber bands
Thimble on my thumb, there's a mess when
Covering the blood on his hands
Can't believe I fell for turning all the screws
Never really worked it always wouldn't do
All the corridors we went through
Only led me right back to you

As long as we're connected
By thread on shredded fabric
Gonna wanna patch it
Stitch it back together
Wear you like a sweater, baby
As long as we're untangled
My feelings will unravel
Wouldn't it be easy?
Fix it with a needle
Wear you like a sweater, baby

It's too hard, I'm hanging on
Just by the arm, uncover all the lessons
There's no harm in tearing off broken cloth
To sever the connection

Bringing out the blade and trimming all the strands
Tying all the loose ends, pulling rubber bands
Thimble on my thumb, there's a mess when
Covering the blood on his hands

As long as we're connected
By thread on shredded fabric
Gonna wanna patch it
Hide under the covers
Hold you like a blanket, baby
As long as we're untangled
My feelings will unravel
Wouldn't it be easy?
Go back to the comfort
Hold you like a blanket, baby

As long as we're connected
By thread on shredded fabric
Gonna wanna hang it
Sew a tapestry
Stare at it forever, baby
As long as we're untangled
My feelings will unravel
Why can't it be easy?
Sew a tapestry
Look at you forever, baby
