

Leftover Emotions

Melanie

Leftover emotion from a couple of nights ago
I got a feeling I left somebody somewhere along the line
Leftover words I've been meaning to tell somebody
Unfinished business is weighing on my mind

Leftover emotions weighing me down again
Leftover emotions weighing me down again
Leftover emotions weighing me down

Make a window in the wall, close it on the pain
Keep the vision deep inside, to stir you up again
I can't take this frustration, I need to tell somebody
Don't get me wrong, just take me as I am

Leftover emotions weighing me down again
Leftover emotions weighing me down again
Leftover emotions weighing me down

Is what you had in your mind what you done to my heart?
Did you plan it this way?
Did you know at the start?
Did you make a B-movie with me in this part?
Is what you had in your mind what you done to my heart?

My move, be a fool to let love go forsaken
I'll call, 'cause after all how will you know I'm home?
I learned two things in life, the heart was meant for breakin'
Leftover emotions don't go away alone, no no

Leftover emotion weighing me down again
Ooh those leftover emotions weighing me down, weighing me down
Leftover emotions weighing me down again
Ooh those leftover emotions weighing me down again
Leftover emotions weighing me down again