

Taking A Bath

Melanie

Oh, I feel grotty
The scent of my body
Reminds me of dish water left overnight
Old salty eyes looking for light

Oh, this old dress has been cried in and lied in
And sweated and dried in
It's hittin' the sack
But now I'm alone with buttons down the back

And it's odd after all that our love has gone through
I should be sitting here crying for you
But all I can think of is taking a bath, cleaning my blue
Bathing my body and oooh, coming out new

All hopes for getting this straight
Left my mind very late in the morning
You left after dawn
I'm touching the tap and I'm turning it on

I've already wished I'd expire
And I'm so tired of cursing your sun-sign
And the day you were born
I'm numb to the hurt and I'm glad it feels gone

And reality blazes and I'm left amazed
That recovery has already started with basics
And all I can think of is taking a bath
Cleaning my blue
Bathing my body and oooh, coming out new, oooh

Taking a bath
Taking a bath
Taking a bath
Taking a bath
Cleaning my blue-oo-ooo-oooo-oooooh