

We were the gossip
You laid your love out on display
We got them talking
About your gift Valentines Day
They sang the ballads you wrote about me
You really got me to believe
Those words were honest
But every compliment was staged

I was played

It's all about you
The rose, the notes, the matching
His and Hers tattoos
I was the ingenue on the big screen
In your debut
I was naive
Now I know you baby
You deserve an Oscar
But you never
Deserved me

Congratulations!
You've officially won an Oscar
For your role in being the worst boyfriend ever

Why are they preaching
That I'm insane for leaving you
You must've reached them
How could they side with you so soon
They sing the ballads you write about me
You whine and weep till they believe
I'm simply evil
But you and I know that that's not true 'cause

It's all about you
The rose, the notes, the matching
His and Hers tattoos
I was the ingenue on the big screen
In your debut
I was naive
Now I know you baby
You deserve an Oscar
But you never
Deserved me

Do you ever look past the looks of it?
Do you ever stop to think about anybody else?
You don't really feel bad 'bout what you did
I don't wanna hear sorry if

It's all about you
The rose, the notes, the matching
His and Hers tattoos
I was the ingenue on the big screen
In your debut
I was naive

Now I know you baby
You deserve an Oscar
But you never
You deserve an Oscar
But you never
You deserve an Oscar
But you never
Deserved me