

Looking Backward

Melody's Echo Chamber

I'm reflecting light
Play it on the wall
Did see you looking
I'm not interested
And you seem kind
And you were ready to show me

Constellation of love
I know that dream
It can't be real
And where do you come from?

I guess I could try
Did seem aligned
Look through the window
I see reflections that you can't see
Phasing me, inside

I need the space of mind
And you're running out of time
You won't believe that

I wish I knew
Every part of you
Through this lonely night
How could I be wrong?

You did everything you could
But it was not enough
You chose the other one
(Oh)
No, I didn't need your light

Constellation
New vibration
You're not alone
On this lonesome road

I know that
Dream of magic love
No fears, no pain, but love
