

Where the Water Clears the Illusion

Melody's Echo Chamber

Suddenly dreaming, I disappeared
They seem to know what is best for me
How much would it cost you to pay your respects?
Suddenly dreaming, I disappeared

After all
I've seen a little something there
Where the water clears the illusion
After all
I've seen a little something there
Where the water clears the illusion

Suddenly feeling to reappear
You seem to know what is good for me
How much would it cost you to leave me in peace?
Suddenly feeling to reappear

After all
I've seen a little something there
Where the water clears the illusion
After all
I've seen a little something there
Where the water clears the illusion

Someone is smoking, well it's not me
Who could it be?
Someone is looking

After all
I've seen a little something there
Where the water clears the illusion
After all
I've seen a little something there
Where the water clears the illusion

Where the water clears the illusion
Where the water clears the illusion
