

Another Chance?

Memoria

Let me be the blood in your veins
Let me be the water in all wells
I want to soothe your thirsty soul

I want to be a raindrop falling
I want to be a snowflake melted
In the palm that is reaching out for me

I will be whatever you tell
Anything to make you stay here
By my side

Nothing ever will prevent me
From cherishing you constantly
In my heart
In my mind there is the power to change
Everything that has strayed, gone bad
In our lives
Let me help us make a new start
If there is just a bit of love left
In your heart

Let me be the blood in your veins
Let me be the water in all wells
I want to soothe your thirsty soul

I want to be a raindrop falling
I want to be a snowflake melted
In the palm that is reaching out for me

I still need you
By my side
I surrender
In my heart

I surrender
In my heart
