

Letting Go

Memphis May Fire

If I cling to my emotions, will I feel alive again?
And when I've been reduced to nothing, will the story finally make sense?

There is a constant war inside of me
And I've always been my own worst enemy, so when will it end?
When will I find the freedom I've been dreaming of?

Letting go is all I've ever known
Hoping that tomorrow brings peace to my soul
Will I ever find a way to grow?
Letting go is all I've ever known

The sweet taste of surrender, I hit the ground and feel alive
I see the truth behind the lies
I feel hope begin to rise!

Letting go is all I've ever known
Hoping that tomorrow brings peace to my soul
Will I ever find a way to grow?
Letting go is all I've ever known

I feel crushed, I feel small
With my back against the wall, I feel the pain!
This is life!
This is war, at the end of every road I find my way!

Letting go is all I've ever known
Hoping that tomorrow brings peace to my soul
Will I ever find a way to grow?
Letting go is all I've ever known
