

Human Evisceration

Mental Cruelty

Behind a dark wall of rotting slaves and wasted life
I lean back while the greatness of hell was unleashed

Risen from hell
As I opened my eyes
And I realized that
We're all just the abortion of God

My soul will never rest
Why should I left this eart?
When hell already opened its gates?

Blood spills on me
Rust in my hands
As I try to break out
Of this cage

Bloodspills on me
Rust in my hands
As I try to escape

And nothing helps but exorcism
All the sins I have become
They crawl upon the light

As the light seems to become darker
Left for agony

Doomed to kill or getting killed
Stuck in this worlds rotten skin
Trying to escape from the end founded on bodies of lost existence
Doomed to killed or become the death

As I stand on the abyss of this world
Watching them Burn

Look down, to the end of life
Blood on your knees as you beg for remorse
Trapped inside the end of mankind

Pain and hate leads directly to scorn
Which is followed by death
Human evisceration

Oh lord please bury me with my opened eyes

Leave this evil soul alone
